IDENTITY THEFT

A Quick Reference Guide

Darren E. Campbell
SHERIFF

Identity theft involves acquiring key pieces of someone's identifying information, such as name, social security number, driver's license number, checking and savings account number, credit and debit card numbers, personal identification number (PIN), and mother's maiden name, in order to impersonate them. This information enables the identity thief to commit numerous forms of fraud which include, but are not limited to, taking over the victim's financial accounts, purchasing automobiles, applying for loans, credit cards, and social security benefits, renting apartments and establishing services with utility and phone companies.

What to do if you become a victim:

- Set up a folder to keep a detailed history of this crime.
- Keep a log of all your contacts and make copies of all documents.
- Notify the US Postal Inspector if your mail has been stolen or tampered with at 1-877-876-2455 www.usps.com/postalinspectors
- Notify the Federal Trade Commission. The FTC is the federal clearinghouse for complaints by the victims of identity theft. The FTC helps victims by providing information to help resolve financial and other problems that could result from identity theft. Their hotline telephone number is 1-877-IDTHEFT (438-4338) or www.ftc.gov/complaint
- Contact all creditors, by phone and in writing to inform them of the problem.
- Call each of the three credit bureaus' fraud units to report identity theft. Ask to have a "Fraud Alert" placed in your credit file asking that creditors call you before opening any new accounts.

- Request that a copy of your credit report be sent to you.
